

Bluegrass Politics

Covering Kentucky politics and government

Powered By

LEXINGTON HERALD-LEADER

Herald-Leader

State official arrested for DUI seven minutes after leaving work

Lexington's financial future bleak because of police, fire retirement fund, councilman says

God a major theme in south-central Kentucky Senate race

Six Republicans vying for three state House seats in Lexington

Panel charges former Kentucky tourism chief with ethics violation

Two state boards begin review of Richie Farmer audit

Citizen Watchdog

Send a tip: E-mail us your story tips about politics and potential abuses of power.

Dig deeper: Track campaign contributions.

Minton elected to 2nd term as chief justice

FRANKFORT — Justices of the Kentucky Supreme Court have unanimously voted to elect Chief Justice John D. Minton Jr. of Bowling Green to a second term.

The four-year term begins June 27. Minton was sworn in as Kentucky's fifth chief justice on June 27, 2008, after being elected to the Supreme Court in 2006.

Share / Save

May 17, 2012 | Jack Brammer | Comments 0

Full Story

New campaign launched Wednesday to eliminate child abuse

By Beth Musgrave

bmusgrave@herald-leader.com

FRANKFORT — Kara Mellick kissed her fingers and placed them on her sleeping nine-month-old daughter's head before she headed out the door in the summer of 2009.

Matt Vaughn, her house mate and long-time family friend, was going to watch Karlie that Sunday. Mellick had been called into work and Karlie's daycare was closed.

Subscribe Archives Tags Popular

enter email address Subscribe

Privacy guaranteed. We will not share your information.

DON'T RAISE MY TAXES

The Earned Income Tax Credit and Child Tax Credit protect Kentucky kids from poverty. Learn how you can protect and strengthen these lifelines for kids.

Follow us on Twitter & Facebook